Dear OFEK,

On behalf of the Accrediting Commission for Schools, Western Association of Schools and Colleges (ACS WASC), we would like to congratulate you in achieving regional accreditation as a supplemental education provider.

As an ACS WASC regionally accredited education provider, you join over 5,200 schools and education programs across the United States and internationally that have achieved ACS WASC accreditation. Being accredited confirms your program meets the quality standards for education institutions.

ACS WASC, a world-renowned accrediting association and one of the six regional accrediting agencies in the United States, extends its services to over 5,200 public, independent, church-related, and proprietary pre-K–12, adult schools, supplemental education providers and works with 20 associations in joint accreditation processes.

ACS WASC accreditation assures the community and educational partners that your educational purposes are appropriate and accomplished through a viable education program, validates you are a trustworthy institution for student learning, and confirms the integrity of your programs and transcripts.

We are pleased to serve as your regional accreditation partner, supporting your commitment to quality student learning.

Sincerely,

Dr. Barry Groves
President, ACS WASC
